		Pastoral Letter of Bishop Noël Simard (Summary)
	Bishop Simard puts forth the urgency of a "pastoral conversion which calls for our solidarity in communion and fruitfulness of mission". To be a Church Differently demands that we focus on what is essential and that we join our efforts to respond properly to the mission, which Our Lord assigns to us. The organization of PASTORAL UNITS in the diocese, like those in many other dioceses in Quebec, consists of a grouping of parishes and a communion of communities. In a pastoral unit, the parishes maintain their administrative identity, thus the fabriques continue to exist; nevertheless, one single pastoral team will take care of the entire unit for which it has pastoral responsibility. The make-up of each team will differ from one unit to another but will include, without fail, the presence of a priest and lay persons known within the community or mandated by the Bishop. This is in conformity with the establishing of pastoral animation teams from within (EPAM) and the parish and pastoral advisories (C.P.P.) The permanent presence of a priest in each Christian community is no longer possible; it is therefore necessary, where it is feasible, to name a delegated person from the community who will act as the bridge between the pastoral team and the congregation of the faithful, in connection with the lived experience of the region and of the diocese. The engagement and the participation of the baptized are indispensable for breathing into the Christian communities; a life force and a spiritual and missionary dynamism. "Together, we turn toward the future, let us take up the challenges attached to the new ways we are seeking. With joy and confidence, rooted in God's Word, let us witness to Jesus in our world and give it the savor of the knowledge of Christ. Let us be Christian communities filled with hope, faith and love, open to the surprises of the Spirit, joyous to make resplendent the treasure of the gospel to all those towards whom the Lord sends us."

Body and Blood of Christ

Christ's Body continues to be broken and his blood shed today; we have yet to accept and cooperate with the presence and activity of Jesus in the world. In our Church, our world and our earth Christ is suffering; in broken relationships and exclusion; among people at war and cities destroyed; in our polluted waters and soil; in inequitable access to resources. A message of hope is needed, a new way of living in the face of overwhelming need. Christ gave us his body and blood, and continues to do so in every Eucharist that we might be formed into his very self. He offers himself as food for our growth, food that prepares us for struggle and for loving, food that forms us as one body to live in solidarity, sharing so that each one has what is needed for life. Christ's body is given and his blood outpoured when we give of ourselves-in families, for a friend or neighbor, in communities and organizations, in the work place. Wherever we offer a kind word or gesture; provide support for struggling people; give aid for the poor, hungry and homeless; whenever we advocate for justice: here, too, Christ made present for others-healing, loving and sharing. To eat of his body is to give ourselves for others; and to live in Christ. In this we will have eternal life.

FEAST OF CORPUS CHRISTI, BODY OF CHRIST

The Church has received the Eucharist from Christ her Lord not as one gift--however precious--among so many others, but as THE GIFT PAR EXCELLENCE, for it is the gift of HIMSELF, of His Person in His sacred humanity, as well as the gift of His saving work. (St. John Paul II, "On the Eucharist" 11)

Loving Creator God, as we gather on this feast of Corpus Christi, help us to better understand and appreciate the gift of Your Son, Jesus Christ, and His gift of the Eucharist. Enable us to come to a greater appreciation of Who You are in our lives, and what this gift is meant to accomplish in our lives. We were baptized to share Your life in the name of Christ. May we live true to the waters of our baptism and true to the gift of Your Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity. May we faithfully follow Christ Who poured out His life for us. May we offer our lives in loving service to our brothers and sisters.

May the Eucharist we share sustain us for our work on earth, and lead us to the heavenly banquet in the eternal feast of heaven, where You live with Your Son and Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever. Amen.

Eucharistic Lord, we commend to you all who are suffering from illness, loneliness, violence, or despair. May Your healing presence touch the homebound elders and all in our nursing homes and hospitals, especially Mike Smoke, Clyde Cree, Sandra Terrance, Eva Seymour, Anne Terrance, Caroline Oakes, Laurie Connors, Hawi Oakes, Theresa Mitchell, Nosta Delormier, Jeremy Francis, Nelson Sawatis and Michael Sunday.
