Creed of Peace

I am guilty of war when I proudly exercise my intelligence to the disadvantage of fellow human beings.
I am guilty of war when I distort others' opinions which differ from my own.
I am guilty of war when I show disregard for the rights and properties of others.
I am guilty of war when I seek to maintain my superiority of position by depriving others of their opportunity for advancement.
I am guilty of war when if I imagine my kin and myself to be a privileged people.
I am guilty of war if I believe a heritage entitles me to monopolize resources of nature.
I am guilty of war when I believe other people must think and live as I do.
I am guilty of war when I make success in life solely dependent on power, fame and riches.
I am guilty of war when I think the minds of people should be regulated by force, rather than by reason.
I am guilty of war when I believe the GOD I conceive is the one others must accept.

1ST Sunday of Advent

As we begin a new Liturgical year, the four Sundays of Advent call us to look behind us, to look ahead of us. The Holy time of Advent, wherein we remember joyously Jesus' first coming and wait patiently for his second, is a metaphor for our whole lifetime. Advent is always with us. From Jesus' birth, to the present, to the second coming in glory, we are always in Advent—a lifetime marked by three seasons of waiting: past, present and future. Like our ancestors in faith who waited on the Lord in the past, we wait on the Lord in the present, preparing our lives by washing ourselves clean inside and outside, making ready. As Today's Gospel tells us, we must stay awake and alert for the dawning season of the future. In the present, we stand like the doorkeeper on watch, waiting for the Lord to come each day, for the closing moment when God the Father will take back all his creation unto himself and we shall see his face, finally. When we take our place with him on what Paul calls "the day of our Lord Jesus Christ," the seasons of Advent, past, present, and future will pass, for time and seasons that now obey the voice of God will be completed. At the end time, there will be only one season of pure love.

The Lord Calls

"Father, we are the work of Your hands." Is God's work in you to be of service to Him as a priest, deacon or in the consecrated life? Fr. Bryan Stitt on Facebook, at www.myvocation.net or at (315) 393-2920 ex 1450.

We commend all who are suffering in the hospitals, nursing homes, or at home, especially Henry Arquette, Eva Seymour, Danny Bero, Laurie Connors, Sandra Terrance, Norman King, Anne Terrance, Susie Taylor, Veronica Cook, Betty Swamp, Catherine Cook, Cecilia Cook, Jane Cook and her son, Sandy Cook, Debbie Bero, Dewey Garrow, and Lorraine George.

Eternal Rest Grant on to Cecilia Square and Peggy Bero Cole, May the Lord console their families and friends.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION ANNOUNCEMENT

Children's Liturgy during the Sunday Masses started on Sunday, November 23, 2014. Our apologies for the delay. All children are encouraged to participate. Volunteers are always welcome.

Registration for First Communion classes will be ongoing to December 31, 2014. The first class was held on Thursday, November 13, 2014, at 6:00 pm at the Saint Kateri Tekakwitha Center in Hogsburg, and it is still not too late to register. There will be no class on U.S. Thanksgiving Day - Nov. 27th, 2014, so families can spend time together. Continue your prayers for a spiritual gathering with your family and friends.

Registration for Confirmation classes are now being accepted at the Kateri Hall. The classes will be held at the Kateri Hall on Sundays beginning on Dec. 7th at 11:30 am, with parents and students orientation. On occasion, the class will be in the Church but advance notification will be provided. Please do not bring food or drinks to class. Thank you.

Additional information, and registration packets, are available at the Kateri Hall. Please call 518-358-2931, or stop in during office hours: Tuesday to Thursday from 9 am to 3 pm. Closed 12-1 for lunch
